Paris, Novebner 9. — In the Chamber of Deputies Premier Ferry replied to Clemenceau's attacks on the Governber of Deputies Premier Ferry replied to Clemencean's attacks on the Government. He said the Government would have been open to censure if it had not supported the interests of French subjects. The time had arrived to terminate the intrigues against French influence in Tunis. It was impossible to adjust the frontier disputanteably because of the impotency of the Bey. The Cabinet had followed the constant tradition of French diplomacy and granded French in rests by means of a rotectorate which permit d France to take what others would have taken. It was the sole means of closing the frontier of Algeria against the dangers threatened by the possible extension of the Eastern conflict.

Ferry said he considered the demand for an inquiry into the Tunisian campaign as usel ss and dangerous, and he defied the opposition to furnish proofs of their charges against the Government. Aster speches by Balluc and Clemenceau, in support of the motion for inquiry, the Chamber decided that the debate should be cloud. The Chamber than rejected the motion for an inquiry by a vote of 343 to 163. The order of the day, pure and simple, was rejected by a vote of 326 to 205. To these questions E. C. Carleton, Mayor and Chairman of the Port Huron Relief First-There is much sickness occasioned by de First—there is much sickness occasioned by de-fective shelter and exposure; much of the stock has been sold for want of food and shelter; the people are generally well supplied with farming implements of immediate necessity. If the pres-ent mode of dealing out relief was stopped and a definite amount in cash given to each sufferer the people would resume their former occupations at once.

people would resume their former occupations at once.

Second—According to our revised sworn statements, there will be 2200 families in the counties of St. Clair, Samilac and Huron. Each family should have at 1:225 $100 to tide them over winter, making a total of $2:0,000 required. The means of the Port Huron committee are about exhausted. The cash receipts of the Deiroit committee, as reported to date, a nount to $3:0,000. How much of this is on hand we cannot say, inasmuch as they have never published an exhibit of their affairs; but from a recent dispatch by the chairman, we estimate hat not more than $1:00,000 represents the cash on hand. This would require an additional $100,000 to fide over the above counties. The Saginaw and Tuscola district is not included in the above, which is mainly supplied by the Bay City committee.

Diplomacy.

The Hoey and Hardie Combination appeared at Leubrie's last night in Diplomacy. There is not a more faultlessly constructed play upon the stage to-day than this. It is art and sensation combined. There is nothing superfluous in the play. Only the words that tell, the situations that canduce to the effectiveness of the drama, are used. Diplomacy is constructed on the plan of a climater. acy is constructed on the plan of a clime and yet, with all this nicety of art, it breather with intensity. In play-writing the secret of success will be found to be the same as the in painting, acting and singing. It is art.
Brute, unguided passion on the stage as elsewhere misspends itself. The French have learned the secret of play-writing, and a French dramatist will not be satisfied with a French dramatist will not be satisfied with a naturally strong passage, but he studies to express strength in the strongest way. In the formation of Diplomacy we see the very genius of mechanism, the inspiration of accuracy, and artistic methods all afire. Such a dramatic composition holds the attention of an audience as a schoolboy is fascinated by the wild sea tales.

It was a genuine dramatic treat. The fine characters were all samped by artists.

It was a genuine dramatic treat. The fine characters were all assumed by artists. There is the spirited, manly "Julian Beauclere" impersonated by Mr. Hardie; the astute diplomatist and sensible friend "Henry Beauclere," impersonated by Mr. Hoey; the strong character of "Count Orloff," carried by Mr. Price; the foxy "Baron Stein," done by Mr. Davies; the serpentine "Countess Zicka," Signora Majeroni's part, and "Dora," a delicious bit of femininity, personated by

"Orloff" comes upon the scene not knowing the name of the lady "Julian" has married, and blurts of the lady "Julian" has married, and blurts out, without intention of harm, his suspicion that "Dora" is a spy. "Julian" demands an explanation. "Orloff" refuses to give it and apologizes for what he has said. "Julian" insists, "Orloff" still refuse; and a duel is imminent, when "Henry Beauclerc," who has been silent during the whole scene, tells "Orloff" that it is his duty to reveal what he knows in order that they may know the exact charge the formula of the power conferred upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded in the office of the Register of Shelby county, Tsunessee, in Record the indebtedness therein mentioned, on the state of the power conferred upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded in the office of the power conferred upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded in the office of the power conferred upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded in the office of the power conferred upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded in the office of the power conferred upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded in the office of the power conferred upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded in the office of the power conferred upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded upon me by a certain deed in trust executed on the 14th day of October, and Edwin Stout, and recorded was closed, and business suspended. a delicious bit of femininity, personated by Miss Pierce.

The first act of the play is explanatory and initiatory. It merely prepares the audience for what is to come. It is in the second act that the real interest begins, and thence keeps up unremittingly to the end. In the "trio scene," as it is called, in which "Julian," "Henry" and "Count Orloff" are the participants, the attention of the andis one of the best creations on the boards to-day. Mr. Price made a very strong "Orloff," and he contributed his full share to the effectiveness of the "trio scene." Miss Emma Pierce made a charming "Dora," and her acting was marked by delicacy and refinement. Mrs. Prior was an excellent "Marquise." and Miss Eva Barker an acceptable "Lady Henry." It was the best rendition of Diplemages ever given in this country. The Diplomacy ever given in this country. The best opportunity will be afforded to-night t
